DIARY NOTES

DD/S

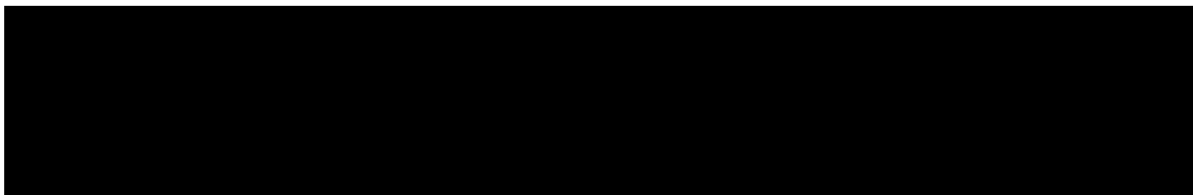

9 June 1964

25X1A

1. I spent most of the day at the second running of the "Reorientation in Supervisory Responsibilities" course for DD/S supervisors. Generally speaking, I think that it went well and that it was a better presentation than our first one.

2. Emmett Echols advised me that he had been tipped off that he would receive a call from the Civil Service Commission requesting that we pick up the tab for the cost of filming the awards ceremony on 22 June at which the President will present Mr. Kirkpatrick and others with the President's Award for Distinguished Federal Civilian Service. (This call did come through on Wednesday, 10 June.) I discussed the matter with Larry Houston and General Carter. Larry and I are both very much concerned about this inasmuch as we feel that we are under an injunction from our Appropriations Subcommittee not to pay for things of this nature which are not the responsibility of this Agency without the subcommittee's specific approval in each case. General Carter directed that the Civil Service Commission be so informed and that, if they wish us to seek approval from our subcommittee, we should go ahead and of course be guided by them. He also wanted us to suggest to the Civil Service Commission that, inasmuch as a member of the White House staff (Bromley Smith) is also a recipient, either the White House or the Bureau of the Budget might come up with the money in some other way much quicker. (I have instructed Emmett Echols accordingly.)
